

ELEVEN ARE HELD IN ANTI-DRAFT PLOT

German Influence Seen in Effort Against War Registration in Texas Organization.

High Power Rifles Obtained by Propagandists—Grand Jury Votes Many True Bills.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.) Washington, D. C., May 28.—German influence to encourage resistance to army registration and the selective draft, uncovered in Texas by a federal grand jury investigation already has resulted in 11 indictments. Other arrests on the same charge have been made in various cities by agents of the department of justice apparently are not so closely linked with German influence but are being investigated.

In the Texas case, according to an official announcement by the department of justice, an organization was formed some time ago ostensibly for the purpose of co-operative buying. Its members were required to take a secret oath and soon after the enactment of the army draft law, the official announcement stated, "a strong German influence was manifested in the organization to turn its efforts to combatting conscription and high powered rifles were obtained to intimidate persons subject to registration, and the officials who will be appointed to perform the registration."

Heavy Penalties Provided. In some western cities there are evidences of an effort about to defeat the registration but the department of justice, it was officially announced, is fully prepared to deal with the offenders, under existing law and the new espionage bill now pending in congress which imposes heavy penalties for such offenses.

Scattered over the country are sporadic efforts to interfere with registration but officials here do not believe they are connected. The Texas case, in which the German influence is clearly established and the arrest of two importers in southern Virginia are the most conspicuous instances.

As the day of registration draws near, the department of justice and other branches of the government are carefully watching for evidence of resistance to the law and are prepared to deal with them promptly.

Seven Points About Registration

1.—There is only one day for registration, June 5, 1917.

2.—Every male resident of the United States who has reached his twenty-first and has not reached his thirty-first birthday must register on the day of June 5, 1917. The only exceptions are persons in the military or naval service of the United States, which includes all officers and enlisted men of the regular army, the regular army reserve, the officers' reserve corps, the national guard and national guard reserve, recognized by the militia bureau of the war department; the navy, the marine corps, the coast guard and the naval militia, the naval reserve force, the marine corps reserve and the national volunteers, recognized by the navy department.

3.—Registration is distinct from draft. No matter what just claim you have for exemption, you must register.

4.—Registration is a public duty. For those not responsive to the sense of this duty, the penalty of imprisonment may be provided in the draft act.

5.—Those who thru sickness shall be unable to register should make a representative to apply to the county or city clerk for a copy of the registration card. The clerk will give instructions as to how this card should be filled out. The card should then be mailed by the sick person, or delivered by his agent, to the registrar of his home district. The sick person will enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope for the return to him of his registration certificate.

6.—Any person who expects to be absent from his voting precinct on Registration day should apply as soon as practicable for a registration card to the county clerk of the county where he may be stopping, or if he is in a city of over 30,000, to the city clerk. The clerk will record the answers on the card and turn it over to the absentee. The absentee should mail this card to the registrar of his home district so that it will reach that office by Registration day. A self-addressed stamped envelope should be enclosed with the card to insure the return to the absentee of a registration certificate.

7.—Registration booths will be open from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Registration day, June 5, 1917.

SAY HIGH PRICE OF COAL SCREENINGS UNWARRANTED

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

Chicago, May 28.—Increase in the mine mouth price of bituminous screenings in Illinois and Indiana of approximately 300 per cent in a year was declared today in the Chicago Tribune by a comparison of the ton price last year and now. Most of the increase, according to figures presented goes directly to the mine owner and not to the miner, nor any of the dealers who handle the coal on its way from the mine to the fire box.

Liberally estimated by experts favoring the mine the mine owners the article says the increased cost of production does not exceed 65 cents a ton.

ARE PROPRIETARY MEDICINES FRAUDULENT?

Undoubtedly, there may be some that are, but on the other hand, there are many proprietary remedies that are as standard as any prescription that any present day physician can write, and in thousands of homes you will find these old, reliable remedies in every day use with satisfactory results. Such a medicine is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which for nearly 40 years, has been alleviating the suffering of womanhood, and overcoming some of the most serious ailments of her sex. If you are suffering from any of the ailments of women, just give this medicine a trial and prove its worth for yourself.—Advertisement.

BURGLAR LOOTS WEST SIDE HOME

Police See Clue to Harry Madden, Escaped Convict, in Work at Truax House.

GETS JEWELRY AND MONEY

A burglar who the police say worked much after the style of Harry Madden, who was sent to the House of Correction from Aurora in 1912 and escaped in 1915, climbed into the home of S. E. Truax, 198 Galena boulevard, last night and stole $7 in money and two gold watches. Mr. and Mrs. Truax sat in an adjoining room entertaining company. The burglar removed a screen, raised the window, climbed into the bedroom, searched dresser drawers and then left by the window, without attracting the least bit of attention.

Madden in the 1915 case climbed thru a window into a bedroom in the home of Mrs. Sara Bronty, 180 Fox street, while members of the family were sitting in an adjoining room. One of the women saw the rays from a flashlight in the bedroom and then a man's face in the mirror. She screamed. Madden jumped out of the window and escaped. Then he went to the home of George Stoppa, 17 South Home street, where he stole a home he robbed Herbert Rees in the side when Rees caught him, attempting to pry open a window. Madden was caught a few minutes later in South Lincoln avenue by the police.

A few weeks after Madden was released from the penitentiary he violated his parole and the police have been hunting him ever since.

The burglary in the Truax home was committed in much the same manner. Mr. and Mrs. Truax were sitting with their company in the living room. Almost directly across a narrow hall is their bedroom. The doors of both rooms were open. The electric light from the living room shone into the bedroom about 9 o'clock. Mrs. Truax said this morning, "and everything was all right then. Our company went about 10:20 o'clock. When we went into the bedroom and turned on the light we discovered that a burglar had been there. All of the bureau drawers were open and contents pulled out. The window was wide open and the screen was gone. My hand bag, containing $7, my gold watch and a watch belonging to my husband were gone. We called the police at once."

The screen on the window was fastened on the outside with hooks. The burglar went to our next door neighbor and got a long handled brush. He loosened the top hook with the brush. Then took the screen out, raised the window and climbed in. We heard a noise once but as we live in an apartment building thought it was upstairs. The burglar must be a bold one as we were all sitting only about five feet from the open door of the bedroom. The light from the living room made it light enough for the burglar to see in the bedroom. People residing in Chestnut street also reported that they heard someone around their homes last night. Several saw a man in their yards and went out and turned on the porch lights. In each instance the latter fled.

PETERSON IS AURORA REVIEW BOARD MEMBER

Edward O. Peterson, republican of Aurora, and Joseph Reeh, democrat of Elgin, were today appointed members of the Kane county board of review by County Judge S. N. Hoover. Chairman of the board of supervisors, L. C. Clyde, of Maple Park is the other member of the board and the chairman.

Peterson was first appointed as a progressive, William Lynch of Elgin was the republican member last year. The progressive and republican forces united and this made the republican party the majority division and the democrat the minority. Either George Scott of Aurora or Paul Joslyn of Elgin will be appointed chief clerk of the board of review which will hold the first session on the third Monday in June and continue until the first Monday in September.

PASTOR'S MOTHER HURT IN CYCLONE

Rev. Olaxon, Called to Mattoon on Report That Parent Was Badly Injured.

Miss Olive Bucks of Aurora is in Charleston, but Escapes Injury and is Now Aiding Red Cross.

Mrs. J. W. Olaxon, mother of the Rev. R. H. Olaxon, pastor of the First Baptist church, was badly hurt in the cyclone which killed over 50 persons at Mattoon Saturday, but Miss Olive Bucks, daughter of the Rev. C. A. Bucks, escaped injury in the tornado although she was in Charleston, a town where almost as many were killed as in Mattoon.

After Olaxon got word Sunday that his mother was hurt and that two sisters, Mrs. Edward Ordorff and Mrs. T. Rohr, and a brother, Thomas Olaxon, all residents of Mattoon, had lost their homes in the storm. He left immediately for Mattoon. Last evening he telegraphed his family in Aurora, that his mother's injuries, while serious, would not be necessarily fatal. The doctors said that she was resting easily. No details were given in the telegram as to the nature of her injuries.

Miss Bucks who has been teaching the normal school at Charleston has ended now for Red Cross relief work in Charleston.

When they are engaged she is so ethereal and spiritual that he imagines she lives on air. But after they are married it amazes him to see how many pork chops she can stow away at a sitting.

NEW MOVE ON TO GET LICHER OUT OF JAIL

An effort to get Frank Licher out of the county jail was to be made today. It was said by Assistant State Attorney Bruce Amell. Licher was sentenced to one year in the county jail last February on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of eight year old Ione Thompson, daughter of Mrs. Isabelle Thompson, with whom Licher has been arrested several times.

Attorney John M. Raymond, Amell says, will endeavor to have Licher paroled in the county court this afternoon when he will go before Judge S. N. Hoover with such an application. Judge Hoover has told the assistant state's attorney that he would not parole Licher without the sanction of Amell.

Licher is where he belongs now and will stay there as far as getting a sanction for his release from his concern, said Attorney Amell today. "He has been mixed up in too many crimes and neglected his family in such a shameful way that he deserves no mercy at all."

Licher's mother wants him out of jail, it is said, and it is understood that he has promised to leave the state and never return if given his parole.

County Judge S. N. Hoover ordered the matter continued for one week and State's Attorney Charles Abbott of Elgin, Judge S. N. Hoover and Assistant State's Attorney J. Bruce Amell will have a conference next week regarding the parole.

At the time Licher was sentenced to serve a year, an effort was made to have Judge Hoover agree to a parole at the end of six months, if Licher would agree to plead guilty. The judge refused.

FLOUR STILL LOWER

Every day for the past week has seen flour prices go down a little. A wholesale flour dealer said this afternoon. Flour was bringing at wholesale by the barrel several weeks ago, $11.

Yesterday the wholesale barrel price was $10 and today it was quoted at $14.40, a drop of 60 cents per barrel over night. Local grocers are selling the 49-pound sacks today at $2.85 and $2.90. Flour has been hard to get for the past month and today, in spite of the drop in prices, it is harder to get than any time in the past, one dealer says. All mills are behind in their orders for from three to four weeks on account of the car shortage.

Aurora Society News

There was wild scrambling last night among the mothers, sisters and aunts of the boys from Aurora who were sent to the western front after enlistment, and who passed thru the city last night on route to Syracuse, N. Y. Mrs. Tebell, laden with a huge package, Miss Nellie Moreau, with an entire box of goodies, and other relatives of the boys, went to the train only to be told that the particular section containing their boys had been shifted to Montgomery. Down to Montgomery they went by street car. In the meantime in came the section into Aurora with the afore-said boys, who had applied and received a three hours' leave of absence. Miss Nellie Moreau was among the first of the women down at Montgomery to hear of the change, and back she went to her own home, just in time to meet her nephew, Lawrence Conway, whose twin brother has been left behind in Arizona with the cavalry.

There were gay times all round town, and best of all the mothers and other relatives who talked freely with the officers, are far more contented about the well-being of their lads because of the manifest high class of these officers. "The officers all seem such gentlemen," said one mother. "Madam," replied one of the men of the battery, "the first thing a man learns in the army is to be a gentleman." By the way Battery B of this Fourth field artillery, is said to be one of the crack batteries.

With the news this morning that "Don" McGinnis, son of Mr. and Mrs. George McGinnis of Le Grande boulevard, has enlisted with the artillery down at the University of Illinois, and also that young "Ed" Sutherland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sutherland (who will spend the summer in Aurora, is to be with one of the coast guards, there is the realization that the old boyhood group of friends is becoming pretty well represented at the front. "The Sutherlands lived during the childhood of their women sons in their home occupied by the McGinnis family. Of late they have lived in Chicago. They are coming out to spend the summer with George Sutherland. In fact a number of the homes up in that neck of the woods are aware that the country is in war. The Eugene Curtiss are getting Lawrence ready to go, and are only hoping that "Zook" will not have to go also. Hobart Haviland is going, and the only reason Hollister, his younger brother, does not follow suit, is because of an annoying trouble with the eyes. The Reuben Hurd family just over in Galena boulevard, have a number of handsome, sturdy, dark eyed boys, all within the arm's limit, and naturally there is an anxious mother in that family.

Scenes in the Union Depot.
A packed house witnessed the little sketch "Scenes in the Union Depot," given last evening in the lower auditorium of the Presbyterian church by J. G. Stuart's class. So crowded was the room that a number who came late could not gain admittance. The play will probably be repeated for the benefit of those who were unable to see it last night. Everything was as typical of a busy depot as it was possible to make it with many humorous scenes which excited much applause. There were the newly-weds, some colored folks, a widow with five children who meets the painter lady and marries her, etc. Alexander Cameron "called off" the train.

Mike Kirby's boy, one of the West High soldiers here last night with Battery A, Sixth artillery, arrived just ahead of a letter from Douglas, Arizona, in which he said: "Four long letters received and I was sure glad to get it. We enjoyed reading the clippings (clippings from the Beacon-News) but would rather have a whole paper once in a while. You want me to tell you what I am doing."

"We get up in the morning at 5:30 o'clock, clean our bunk, revitalize at 6 o'clock, then go to mess, then back to our tent and get out outfit. We then go to the stable, clean our horse, saddle and pack our horse, then back and practice for two hours straight. I am full of blisters but I won't tell you where, then come in and clean our horses. Then take a bath and go to stables and feed horses. Then back to get mess kit and fall in for mess line. At 1:30 o'clock fall out for foot drill for two hours. At 4 o'clock go to stables, water and feed your horse, then go back and feed yourself, then come back at 6 o'clock for retreat, then nothing to do until tomorrow. Lights are out at 9 o'clock so we get plenty of sleep."

"We went out yesterday for a 25 mile march up the mountains. We were tired out before we got back—25 miles up and 25 back. Some trip, mother."

"We had a sand storm today—gosh, it was fierce—worst thing I ever saw—couldn't see a thing. Some of the fellows' faces were cut from it. Some storm."

That's enough about myself—is father still smoking? Yeha? I am smoking dried cactus, costs a lot of money for smoking. Have you got the garden planted yet and is it cold up there? It is cold in the morning here but in the daytime it is something fierce and it is not summer yet. Johnny Paul got a letter yesterday and you never saw such a happy fellow. He folks sent him a money order, just for Felix and himself. We made an agreement that the last guy to get a box of candy has to treat the bunch, so please send a box of candy as soon as you get this letter."

WEST HIGH BOY TROOPERS

Five of the first contingent of West High school students' forces in the United States regular army, were in Aurora last night on route from El Paso to Syracuse, N. Y. They were Gus ("War Horse") Tebell, Lawrence ("Jock") Conway, George Johnson, Bert ("Swede") Carlson, and Harold Cramer.

A telegram received in Aurora yesterday noon told that the soldiers expected to arrive here between 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening. On the wires of the "grapevine telegraph," the news spread thruout the town and plans were started to give the boys a warm reception on their arrival. Unfortunately, the second section of the three division train, carrying Battery B, fourth field artillery, of which the Aurora boys are members, did not stop in Aurora.

Crowds besieged the depot, plying station master, dispatchers and ticket agents with questions regarding the movements of the troop train, but very little information was obtainable, as great secrecy is maintained in the movement of these troops. Conflicting reports circulated about the depot and caused great unrest. One was to the effect that the train would stop at Montgomery, another that it was to stop at Aurora, another that it was not coming at all.

A small party, confident in the belief that there would be a stop at Montgomery, departed for that village, where a large crowd quickly gathered. No stop was made between Montgomery and Clyde.

All but Carlson dropped off the train when it passed thru Aurora, but "Swede" not knowing that the others had left, remained with the train, which went thru to Clyde, where it was scheduled to stop for water.

Girls on Job With "Fudge." Girls crowded the station platform in this city and the yards at Montgomery. They were laden with boxes of candy, cakes and other sweetmeats for "our boys." Parents, sisters and brothers, aunts, uncles and cousins paced excitedly back and forth with an expectant look shining from their eyes.

When definite information had been received as to the whereabouts of the special troop train, it was learned that the train was traveling in three sections and that the telegrams received from the boys had neglected to state in which section they were traveling.

The first section was expected at the Montgomery yards at 8:30 p. m., where time was to be taken to water the mules of the battery.

Immediately, a contingent rushed into the suburb in street cars and automobiles, to be the first to meet the young soldiers. About 8:40, a 30-car train pulled up to the station and stopped. Scores of people, young men and women, former schoolmates, rushed pell-mell along the tracks, shouting, "Here they are!" "Oh, you Jock!" "Hey, Gus!" "West High!" "Swede!"

Storming the train, confident of seeing the "home boys," their disappointment was acute upon learning that there were no Aurora men in the section. Still hoping, however, a number boarded the train and passed from coach to coach, shouting out the names of boys. Soldiers, quickly appreciative of the "home town" feeling, aided, but without success.

Discover Another West High Boy. One bronzed giant by the name of Smith, catching sight of Jack Crane, rushed up to him, exclaiming: "Isn't your name Crane?" Smith was a student at the West High in 1912, and immediately recognized the 280 pounder as the brother of his football captain five years ago. From him it was learned that the Aurora boys were probably in the second section, expected at almost any moment.

A "watchful waiting" party was at once organized, and eyes were glued upon the tracks, which stretched away to the southwest. In a short time, a headlight was sighted, throwing its gleam along the rails, and once again hope ran high. For the second time, the expectant crowd was doomed to disappointment, for it proved to be a coal train, which drew up to a grinding stop alongside the troop train, where preparations were being made to water the mules.

Closely following, another headlight made its appearance, only to disappear. Thinking that the approaching train had stopped, the crowd waited, but a reporter for The Beacon-News dashed down the track and boarded the train which was pulling in on the left hand track around the coal train. At a speed of about 20 miles an hour, the train rushed past the Montgomery depot, leaving the crowd staring after it in dismay.

Breaking headlong into the dark of the first car, shouting for "Aurora men," the reporter was grasped by the sleeve, while a voice inquired: "What are their names?"

Rapidly running thru the names of the Aurora lads, he was interrupted with: "There is a fellow by the name of Conway in the next car." The reporter hurried into the following car shouting "Conway, Cramer, Tebell, Johnson, Carlson!"

From the gloom of a corner seat, a shape shot forward as if discharged from a gun.

"What was that name?" It was Cramer. He was with Conway and unaware of the proximity to Aurora and the reception planned for them. The first question on Cramer's lips was:

"Is my mother at the depot?" Conway's mother is dead. The boys had obtained permission from Colonel Snow, the commanding officer in charge of the division, to stop in Aurora, providing they re-joined their battery at Clyde, and they were surprised when the train went past the Aurora depot without stopping. Not to be cheated, however, four of the youths dropped from the moving train and a touching scene ensued at the depot, when they were united with parents and loved ones. Carlson, unaware that the four had disembarked, remained with the train.

The youths left shortly after midnight with Battery A, almost buried under the boxes of fudge and food-stuffs pressed upon them. Hugh Curry donated a carton of cigars. The entire party will go directly to Syracuse, N. Y., where it is expected they will proceed to France shortly.

Villa Pursuer in Battery. The entire party left El Paso on last Thursday, coming to Chicago by way of Kansas City. It was from that city that the telegram giving word of their coming was shot. "Averaging from 30 to 35 miles a day," he said, "we chased the Mexican into the interior. Signs along the line of march told us that we were on his trail. We marched steadily for about two weeks and finally hit into the mountains south and west of San Antonio, Sonora. Everything indicated that we were drawing closer every hour. Finally, as we pitched camp one hot night, we saw the camp fires of Villa. The fellows pummeled each other upon the back, shook hands all round, and acted generally like a gang of escaped lunatics. We dreamed that night catching the bandit, and bright and early the next morning, guns were carefully inspected and everything made ready for the advance. Like a sprinter waiting for the crack of the gun, we waited for the command to march.

"That morning, we received orders to stop the advance. Well, I don't just remember all that happened, but you can imagine how we felt. It sure was hard, fellows."

NEW PARKING PLAN

A new method of parking automobiles in Broadway between Benton and Spring streets is being experimented with this week on orders of the mayor.

All automobiles standing in Broadway are to be parked on an angle of about 40 degrees. This angle of parking enables motorists to drive into unused spaces and to also back out easily.

Motorists have been parking their cars parallel to the curb. If the present system is not satisfactory, another method will be tried.

CYCLONE CITIES BURY THEIR DEAD

(By Associated Press Local Wire.)

Mattoon, Ill., May 29.—Mattoon and Charleston today buried many of the victims of Saturday's tornado. Thruout the day the city streets and roads to the cemeteries were dotted with funeral processions. All of the burials were private, it being planned to hold public memorial day services in each community tomorrow.

Business in the two communities, Mattoon and Charleston, today began to assume a normal aspect for the first time since the storm. In Charleston, where a large part of the business district lay directly in its path, with hastily obtained new stocks, merchants opened stores in makeshift shelters, several tents and a covered wagon being used.

Plans for rehabilitation announced by J. J. O'Connor, director of the central division of the Red Cross included re-construction of the homes of hundreds of persons in the two cities who were left penniless by the wind. Surveyors indicated that about 4,000 cars of lumber are necessary for the purpose and the aid of the national lumbermen's association, in obtaining preferential delivery has been enlisted.

Active building cannot begin, however, for at least two weeks. It being necessary to make available for temporary habitation a few of the partially demolished dwellings and to clear away the wreckage. Teams and workmen for this purpose were obtained today. Meanwhile, temporary shelter was being afforded many of the homeless in tents sent by the Illinois National guard from Springfield.

GERMAN-AMERICANS FIGHT FOR U. S.

A letter from an Aurora woman who is angry was received by The Beacon-News today. In the course of it she said:

I read an article in the Kendall County News as follows:

"The best advice from every quarter is for no one to volunteer, but wait for the registration and then and there take your chance as no credit will be given for the volunteers already gone." Little Rock township quota."

I would like your opinion on the above, for if there is no credit due the boys who have already gone to the front, what possible credit is due those who wait to be drafted. Is the above a slam on our volunteers or does it originate from the mind of a German or a coward?

The writer of the item which so offended Mrs. T. was certainly unfortunate in his phrasing. It is probable that he intended to convey the information that any number of volunteers would not lessen the number from the county who would be drafted.

The writer of the item is an American, not a German. Americans of German descent and naturalization are volunteering in as great numbers as any other class of Americans. There are a few German-Americans whose sympathies are not with their own country but they are in a tiny minority. They may be likened to the English Tories in this country in '76 who opposed the Americans of English descent or birth who fought against England.

But these latter day Tories are of no great moment or menace; it is the unthinking people of all ancestries and the selfish who are this country's peril.

THE MARKET.

The machinery for placing the $2,000,000,000 loan is set up and the wheels are beginning to turn, with successful results, as expected. The energy and ability of the American financial and business community is turned on full head to complete this operation, with every prospect of a large over-subscription—even an overwhelming one. This is the first decisive blow against the enemy forces and American citizens can be depended upon to make it a telling one.

The contrary, the splendid prospects for the loan which have opened up, have created a change of feeling in Wall street, which is itself throwing the weight of all its influence towards success, and in line with all the other great forces that work for the same purpose, is doing it without charge, or hope of reward.

Undoubtedly, too, the rising prices in the market are a forecast of the great increasing business which is coming to the country and of continuous and enormous profitable prosperity. All the earmarks show that the right people are buying stocks, and every indication points to an advancing market which, with the usual necessary and reasonable reactions, looks like continuing its upward trend for a considerable period.

WOMAN LABOR IN WAR.

Perhaps the greatest unused labor asset which we have in this country is contained in its women. In the expansion of industrial activity which must be put forth as a part of our national effort women are sure to play a great part. The experience of England shows in what fields most of them will be employed. An official British labor bulletin tells us that in July, 1916, 368,000 more women were employed in painful occupations in Great Britain than in July, 1914. In July, 1914, there were 2,117,000 women employed in industrial occupations; by July, 1916, that number had been increased by 362,000. In July, 1914, there were 464,000 women engaged in commercial occupations in Great Britain. In the first two years of war that number was increased by 198,000. The number of women employed in agriculture grew from 130,000 to 156,000. Those employed in transportation grew from 15,000 to 46,000. Those employed in arsenals and dockyards increased from 2,000 to 71,000. Women engaged in "banking and finance" increased in number from 9,500 to 39,500.

Altogether there were 3,219,000 women employed in Great Britain in July, 1914, and during the first two years of war 866,000 women were added to the productive capacity of the nation, an increase of 27 per cent. The British bulletin estimates that 768,000 of these additional women were reported by their employers as directly replacing men, setting them free for military work.

The same process of development went on in other countries abroad. In the same bulletin this is reported from Petrograd:

The first women filers were employed in autumn of 1914 at well-known private works in Petrograd. Then women began to be employed at lathes in the government workshops, and men taken from drilling, planing, milling and other machines were more and more frequently replaced by women, without any complaints

EVENING CHIT-CHAT

(By RUTH CAMERON)

Married Women in Business.

The man who sells is an important factor in any business. But not so important as the man who buys. At least so a business man told me recently.

In the business of married life, in nine cases out of ten, the woman is the buyer.

One often hears married women complaining because their work in the home is so uninteresting and wishing they could go into business where they would have some chance to use their brains.

Yet in the majority of cases these women are not using their brains in their share of the world's business. In fact the small income is the hardest to spend wisely.

To spend even a small income in the wisest, most efficient way is truly a task for all a woman has not only of brains but of character.

Take the brain side of it first.

A first class buyer the kind who if she were a man would be offered positions by other buyers, will know the value, not only the price, of all she buys. In the matter of food she will understand cuts of meat, she will know about the food values of various articles, she will see everything she buys instead of shopping by telephone.

It is not the people who have the least money who buy most carefully. A settlement worker told me of a woman who had $6 a week to feed a family of five and included in her budget a head of lettuce a day (30 per cent water).

What a waste! Not Just Holdo Her Job.

In the matter of dry goods she will also be enough of a judge of materials, not to be at the mercy of the clerk. She will know sleazy goods, she will be able to detect the shoddiness that so often lurks under the gloss of attractive styles. She will know at what shops each article can be bought at best advantage.

There are a few of the ways in which a woman who wants to fill it by virtue of the marriage service, will use her brains.

Now as to character. The woman who buys to the best advantage must have self-restraint. She must know what she needs most and be able to steer a straight course towards it despite all temptation.

For Little Lady, I know just how it was. She has to scribble and save all the time and she fell in love with this and knew it was a good value and she just went on a spree and bought it!

And that's where character comes in.

YOUR HEALTH

(By JOHN S. HUBER, A. M., M. D.)

The health of the people is the supreme law.—Cicero.

A really great statesman has observed that government is after all primarily for the protection of the home against spoliation; for the protection of the lives of its inmates against violence and the assassin. This principle of government is truly basic in civilization. This principle of government is truly basic in civilization. This principle of government is truly basic in civilization.

It is by reason that our people have been coming thru these several decades past—since, indeed, the birth of the science of preventive medicine—to appreciate the supreme importance of this principle of communal sanitation, that almost every city, town, county and state health commission has now its health committee or board or department of health. And it is for this reason that the health commission, such as appears in this newspaper, has logically taken its place in the scheme of civilization.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Q.—I have a question of my own. It causes me no trouble; it would like to have it removed.

A.—Answer—Leave it alone. It probably causes no unpleasant appearance. But any kind of operation would leave a scar or a parchment mark that would look less well. Besides, cancer has resulted from unskillful operating on such blemishes.

Q.—I smoke quite a few cigarettes. Do they harm a fellow as much as is claimed?

A.—Answer—Generally such claims are understatements. Here is what a very wise physician of large experience and reputation wrote some years ago: "The numerous mental wrecks, youths who have come to my care during the last 10 years, whose lives were failures, impress me as the tobacco stands as the gravest danger confronting the new century; and the medical profession has a fearful responsibility in educating young men and their parents to appreciate this danger."

HOW CANADA WAS AFFECTED.

In gauging the probable effects of our entrance into the war, attention has been turned to Canada's experience, as in some points her position is more nearly like our own than that of any other nation.

When the war broke out, however, Canada had been borrowing heavily for some years and her imports largely exceeded exports, whereas we have been reaping the benefits of very large profits from the European war for two years and have long since passed the period of uncertainty of nearly a year, which followed in Canada after the war broke out. The May circular of the Canadian Bank of Commerce compares the situation in the two countries:

By 1916 Canada had reversed the excess of imports, which were in 1914, $409,000,000, and in the fiscal year ending March, 1916, exported $249,000,000 in excess of imports. This excess had increased for the 1917 year to $333,000,000. Higher prices are, of course, to some extent responsible for this increase.

Bank deposits in Canada increased from $993,000,000 on Dec. 31, 1915, to $1,203,000,000 on Dec. 31, 1916, and in a similar period bank exchanges increased from $9,000,000,000 to $10,557,000,000. In this increase in deposits, the savings bank section showed the most growth, from $428,000,000 at the end of 1915 to $445,000,000 at the end of 1916, reaching $485,000,000 at the end of March, 1917. This growth was steady and showed that thrifty Canadian workers were taking advantage of the high wages to put by a good share of the increase.

War and Women Workers

(By Frederic J. Haskin.)

Washington, D. C., May 26.—How may the women and children of America take the places of men in factories without waste of energy and loss of health, without wearing out women and killing babies?

The children's bureau of the United States department of labor has set out to solve this problem by a study of Europe's experience during the war.

The substitution of inexperienced women and children for skilled male factory workers has caused inevitable loss, but it was not this alone which caused Great Britain and France to establish commissions for the investigation of labor conditions.

It was because in time of emergency the government of each of these countries had looked for quick intelligence and found it wanting; had expected efficiency and been disappointed, and had come at last to realize that this was not the fault of the workers but of the industrial system itself.

Great Britain's new educational bill contains a number of progressive measures which would doubtless have been scorned by the house of commons before the war. Moreover, the president of the board of education in France, in parliament a few weeks ago, declared that hereafter it would be the policy of England to insist upon the education and industrial training of the masses, so that the nation could rely upon a sufficient number of skilled workers in time of need.

It is the purpose of the bill which Mr. Fisher expects to put in force as soon as possible, the provision for continuation schools for persons between the ages of 14 and 18. The attendance at these schools will be for not less than eight hours a week, and will be at the employer's expense.

The industrial lessons of the war learned by France and England are now of particular interest to this country. The United States children's bureau was the first to realize the importance of obtaining all the facts brought out by the European industrial commissions. The bureau's work of the children's bureau is looking after the nation's babies, but the bureau early discovered that it could not go very far in its work without encountering the industrial problem. It found that the chief cause of infant mortality was the low wages earned by the babies' fathers, and that the mortality rate was greatly increased when the babies' mothers also were compelled to work in order to earn enough to live on.

Now, as a result of the war, a great many mothers, including factory workers, will be employed in the home, which will place a greater hardship on the babies and children. Therefore, the children's bureau does not seek to prevent such employment, but from the information obtained concerning the same situation in Europe, it hopes to insure the best possible working conditions for these women.

Perhaps the most remarkable results obtained were those of the British fatigue commission, which conducted an extensive inquiry into the principal causes of fatigue. Its experiments covered seven factories each employing anywhere from 600 to 2,000 hands, including men and women. The first investigation, extending over a period of one and a half months, was conducted in a factory engaged in the manufacture of surgical dressings for the army in the field. The entire process of making surgical dressings was carried on in this one factory, including packing, carding, spinning, winding, reaping, sizing, weaving, bleaching, finishing, pressing, and ironing. The work was done by men, women and children, and they were therefore able to exert greater effort. The commission made the absolute recommendation that overtime be abolished from the factories altogether. In its experiments conducted in connection with this feature it was found that not only was the output no greater on account of the extra hours, but in most cases it was actually less than that produced in normal hours. "In some cases where the operation of machinery is almost the sole process connected with the output," said the commission, "overtime may be justified, but even here the workers should be more completely rested than in normal hours."

The commission also discovered that home conditions, the health of the worker and the amount of food consumed all had their effect upon his accumulation of fatigue, but the main factor in combating fatigue was rest. Concerning this it says: "Under ordinary circumstances labor is performed in tasks of varying length, separated by intervals of rest. Under ideal conditions rest intervals would be sufficiently often and sufficiently prolonged to insure that a perfect recovery should be attained after the performance of every task."

The first experiment was known as a color test. The person examined was given the task of depressing a key on a moving drum, which caused a shutter to fall, revealing a certain color. Six keys bearing different colors were then handed him, and he was told to select the one similar to the color exposed. The second experiment was a hearing test. The subject was again seated on the stool and told to keep his eyes fixed on a point in front of him. A watch was then held six feet away from him as he could hear its tick, and the distance measured by a tape measure. The third experiment was an eye test. Its object was to determine the greatest distance at which the subject could identify letters on a piece of card board. This fourth experiment, known as the systolic blood pressure test, consisted merely of taking the subject's blood pressure.

The subjects of these four experiments, of course, responded to each of them in proportion to the extent to which they were fatigued. As a result, the commission reported the following facts: First, that fatigue accumulated during the day and night normal conditions, is dissipated at night. That is, a person under ordinary circumstances is able to recover from fatigue accumulated during the day by one night's rest. However, by the end of a week of overtime work, the fatigue accumulated during the day and night normal conditions, is dissipated at night. SWEDISH LUTHERAN BUILDING PLANS

Church Recently Burned to Be Replaced by Structure at Cedar and Oak.

Old Galena Boulevard Site for Sale—Contractor Graham Is Given Work.

Plans for the erection of a new Swedish Lutheran church to replace the one recently destroyed by fire have been completed and the general contract has been awarded W. H. Graham.

Two lots have been purchased at the corner of Oak avenue and Cedar street and work upon the new edifice will begin as soon as the house on one of the lots is removed.

Brick Material. The new church will be practically the same size as the old building and will be built of brick. It will be finished in oak. There will be a large Sunday school room in the basement. The pipe organ will be placed in the vestry directly back of the altar with the choir loft and vestry at either side.

It is expected that the new building will be completed about Thanksgiving.

The Rev. Ernest Smith of Chicago has accepted a call from the church and will begin his pastorate the first of August.

To Sell Old Site. The property in Galena boulevard where the old church stood for 50 years is being offered for sale. The location was changed because of the fact that it is more central for the majority of the members of the church.

There has been talk of a merger of the Galena boulevard and the Swedish M. E. churches. It was said that the two if they joined would build at the northeast corner of Galena boulevard and Blackhawk streets. This report was largely speculative, however.

Do You Buy Toilet Paper by Appearance, Weight or Count?

There are only three ways. Two of them are wrong. The other one is right. You should know how many sheets you are paying for.

"It's the Counted Sheets that Count"

Appearance is deceptive because harsh paper can be loosely wound to make it look big. Weight is no standard to go by, because coarse, thick paper weighs heavy. Quality should have first consideration, but definite quantity is your only guarantee of full value and you'll always get it when you buy.

Scott's Tissue Toilet Papers

By toilet paper by these brand names and you'll always be sure of getting satisfactory quality and full quantity—the best value in the market.

Scott's Tissue is absorbent, white and clean—soft as old linen. Each roll carefully wrapped, 1000 counted sheets in each roll.

Lohmann Monuments Are Of a Quality Everlasting

In this day and age there is great variation in the quality of Monuments, hence the lack of character in many monumental pieces.

There is much distinction in the stone that is of perfect granite, beautiful in design and faultless in the art work. For this reason we submit the

Famous Montello Granite

to all who want the best. It is the most beautiful, strongest, most enduring granite in the world. Montello will never fade or bleach out and is not affected by weather conditions.

We ask the opportunity to submit designs.

This is a picture of a very pretty bungalow, one any man could be proud to live in.

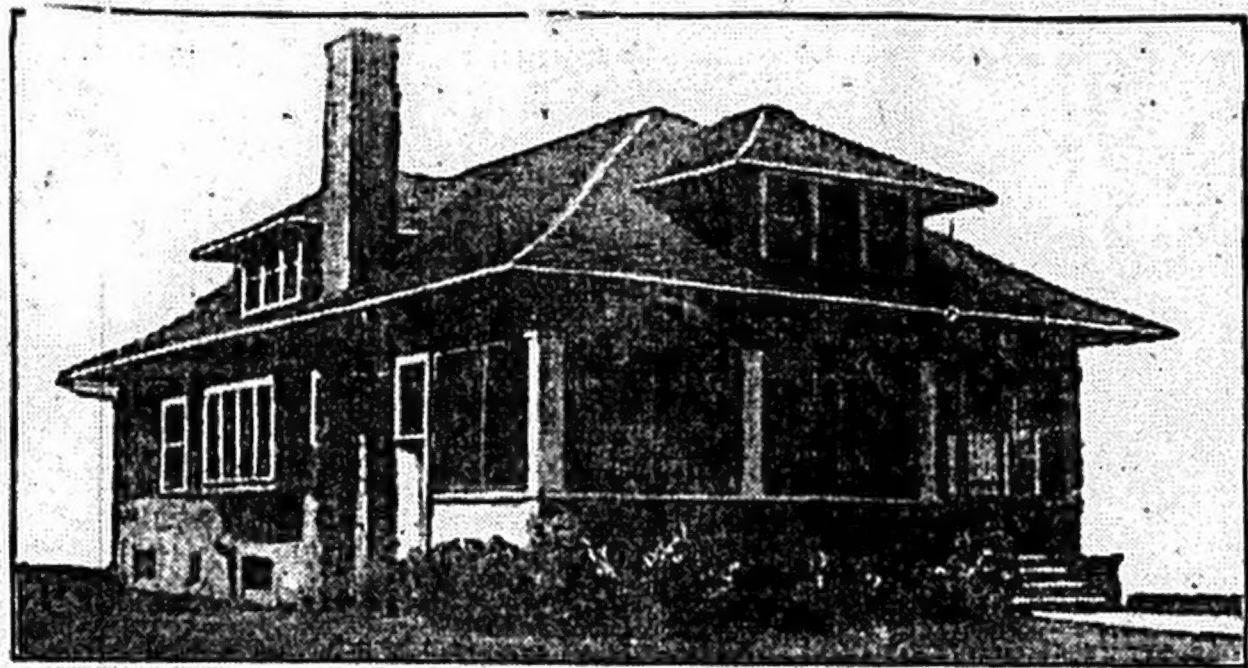

The one I own and live in has got this one beat from every angle a hundred miles, and I want to sell it.

My bungalow is located on South LaSalle street, near Center Avenue, and is about the finest little home in Aurora. Six rooms are on the main floor.

This cozy little home—a real home—cost me a lot of money to build. It is as attractive and about as perfectly appointed as you can find anywhere; but for some very good personal reasons I want to dispose of it right away.

The first man who comes along will get it at a bargain price.

N. B.—In a recent art folio of Kane Co., my bungalow was honorably pictured in the section of artistic homes.

NEW CHAMPION TO JOIN ARMY

Benny Leonard Announces After Knockout of F. Welsh He Will Enlist Monday.

SCORES K. D. IN THE NINTH

New York, May 19.—Benny Leonard of New York, who last night won the world's lightweight championship by stopping Freddie Welsh in nine rounds, will enlist in the United States army.

After the fight the new champion gave out the following statement:

"I am planning to enlist in the army without waiting to be drafted if they will take me after my bout with Joe Welsh in Philadelphia next Monday. After we get thru helping the allies lick Germany I'll think about defending my newly won title. Welsh fought a great defensive battle and I won the championship from a game man."

Leonard is now lightweight champion of the world. He knocked out Welsh, the titleholder, at the Manhattan Casino. It was no fluke victory. For eight rounds the little New York Hebrew outboxed and outpunched the conqueror of Willie Ritchie. Then, when the Englishman was tired and weak, Leonard finished the job.

It happened in the first minute of the ninth round as they came together to start the session. Welsh went into a clinch. As the referee broke them Leonard swung Welsh into his own (Benny's) corner. A right to the chin sent Welsh to his knees, groggy and sick.

He was game. He refused to take a count.

As he staggered up and reached for Leonard, hoping to get into a clinch that might save him, Benny stepped back and shot another crushing right to the jaw.

Welsh is Sent Down.

This punch again drove Welsh to the lower rope, and he finally sank to one knee. Leonard again stepped back and waited for the Englishman to arise. Slowly but surely Welsh got to his feet, helpless but still game and unwilling to take a count on the floor.

Leonard, realizing a championship and thousands of dollars before him, rushed to close quarters and served out a terrible beating in the head and body. For fully thirty seconds he punched away at the champion.

Kid McFarland, the referee, was finally forced to step in and stop the terrific punishment, but he was very sore. As he went between the boys he grabbed Leonard, but as he reached for Welsh, punch-drunk, the champion staggered out of his grasp and fell over the lower rope. Five feet at the right of Leonard's corner, Harry Fulton, Welsh's manager, then jumped into the ring and carried Freddie to his stool. Leonard retired to his own corner and stood there for about five minutes realizing for the first time that he was king of the lightweight.

Leonard Kisses Loser.

His first thoughts, however, were for the man he had beaten. He passed no attention to the cheering that was being given him, but walked right over to Welsh's corner and kissed the defeated man.

Welsh, still dazed from the terrific punishment, but game to the very core, pulled himself up and reluctantly to his feet and offered a trembling fist hand to his conqueror, upholding tradition that only a game man could display under such conditions.

It was a championship won on its merits. Welsh can never dispute Leonard's claim to the title.

Fight by Rounds.

Round 1.—Leonard sent two rights to the jaw. Welsh went into close quarters and banged Leonard's wind with a few short rights. Leonard backed away and hooked two lefts to the mouth. Welsh came back and the champion came down a mixup, and the champion came out of it with a smile, altho he appeared wobbly. Leonard's round.

Round 2.—Leonard sent three lefts to the face and hooked two rights to the jaw. He hooked Welsh's leads. Leonard then began to play for the body, not giving Welsh a chance to get set. Then coming back and the champion came down a mixup, and the champion came out of it with a smile, altho he appeared wobbly. Leonard's round.

Round 3.—Leonard began again to force matters. He sent two rights to the jaw and an upper cut to the mouth. Welsh came back and poked four blows to Leonard's wind. He followed this up with two blows to the face. A furious mixup in the center of the ring followed. Honors were even at the bell.

Round 4.—Leonard again started the mixing, jabbing four lefts to the face and to the body. Welsh then got mad and started to mix it up. He hooked two rights to Leonard's face, but Leonard came back strong and forced Welsh into a clinch at the bell. Leonard's round.

Round 5.—Welsh came up, refreshed from the minute's rest and started in by jabbing two lefts to the face. Leonard retaliated by sending a dozen blows to the head, almost closing Welsh's left eye. Welsh, however, came back in a few minutes at the bell, but it was Leonard's round.

Round 6.—The lads did the same old careful boxing for about half a minute. Leonard trying to swing a haymaker to Welsh's jaw. The champion was too clever for the New Yorker. Leonard then changed his tactics and began to work his left, but again Welsh ward off his blows. In the last 10 seconds of the round Leonard worked over two rights to the jaw, and the round ended in his favor.

Round 7.—Leonard sent several lefts to the face, but failed to reach the jaw with a right. Leonard swung a left to the head and sent another blow to Welsh's eye. Freddie sent a nasty right to the jaw, but Leonard met him with two more. Leonard's round.

Round 8.—Welsh worked Leonard into a corner and hooked a left to the face. Leonard chased Welsh around the ring and sent in several short, snappy punches. Welsh was strong, however, and came back near the end of the round with a couple of left hooks to the mouth, but Leonard walloped him on the head with lightning blows. Leonard's round.

Round 9.—Welsh missed two straight lefts for the head and blooded Leonard's right ear. Leonard kept coming in and sent Welsh to his knees with a hard right. When Welsh got up Leonard sent him reeling with a volley of rights. The referee then stepped between them and stopped the bout. After Referee McFarland released his hold on Welsh the latter reeled and would have fallen thru the ropes to the press stand, but he was jumped into the ring and led him down.

NEW YORK HAS ITS FIRST LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPION

[By Associated Press Leased Wire.]

New York, May 19.—When Benny Leonard won the lightweight championship of the world from Freddie Welsh of England here last night he scored his fifth consecutive knockout in as many weeks, refereed by McFarland stopping the bout when Leonard was hanging helplessly on the ropes in Leonard's corner. It was a technical knockout and will be credited as such.

The new world's champion is the first New Yorker who has won this title, as Leonard was born in this city on April 5, 1894.

Welsh, who is a wonderful boxer and clever ring general, protected his jaw during the early rounds but as the fight progressed he showed signs of weakening from the heavy body punishment.

AURORA PLAYS RAGEN'S COLTS

Chicago Leaguers, With Ike Corey, Opponents of Local Club in Memorial Day Game.

DONATE TO RED CROSS

The Aurora Tigers, one of the best teams in the city, will journey to Oswego tomorrow afternoon where they meet the fast Oswego team in the second of a series of games. The Tigers won the first by a score of 4-3. Both teams are fast and a good game is expected. The Tigers have been going at a fast step this season, having won three in a row.

Meyer, who pitched the last two innings against the Kendall County nine last Sunday, will be on the rubber for the Tigers with Krock on the pitching end. Either Glenn Leigh or Gates will hurl for Oswego with O. Leigh doing the catching. The Tigers and a number of Rogers will leave on the 1 o'clock car. The probable batting orders:

TRAPSHOOTERS TO HAVE BIG DAY ON THE MORROW

The Aurora Trapshooters' association will be at the 30th traps Wednesday. Practice is at 9:30 a. m., the program beginning at 10 o'clock. At least 50 marksmen are expected as they will shoot on one leg of trophies.

Interest in the Aurora club is on the constant increase and it has more than 50 members with a number of very high class shooters. Both handicap shoots and scratch events have proved popular.

Constant practice at the traps has earned the club high ranking. In a big shoot at Starved Rock recently the Aurora team was second, a number of its men shooting a 90 percentage or better.

A number of big shoots which will be run off this summer will find Aurora teams in the competition. Going as they are now there is every prospect of the local marksmen finishing high in the prize lists.

ROCK ISLAND RETURNS

Chicago, May 19.—The Rock Island club of the "Triple A" league, which suspended its franchise yesterday because of President Tarnsey's refusal to immediately reinstate First Baseman Williams, is again a member of the league.

After a telephone conference between Tarnsey and officials of the club, President Tarnsey promised to reinstate Williams. Rock Island agreed to play a double header with Bloomington today and the game promises to be a good one as both teams have strengthened their lineups since the beginning of the season. The Dodge battery will be Corcoran, on the firing line, and Flynn on the receiving end.

DOGGERS AND OAK PARKS IN FIRST TILT TOMORROW

The Dodgers and the Oak Parks will meet on the Phillips park diamond Wednesday afternoon. It will be the first game of the season between the two teams and the game promises to be a good one as both teams have strengthened their lineups since the beginning of the season. The Dodge battery will be Corcoran, on the firing line, and Flynn on the receiving end.

TO HAVE BOXING SHOW TOMORROW

Spike Kelly and Joe Koska Ready for 10-round Bout Before Local Club.

CHICAGO CROWD IS COMING

Joe Koska, of Pittsburgh, and Spike Kelly, of Chicago, welterweights who are to meet in the 10-round windup before Jack Rogers' open air arena near here tomorrow night, wound up their training in Chicago today. Both will arrive in the city tomorrow morning, ready to weigh in at 8 o'clock in the afternoon. They are to make 145 pounds.

At the Arcade gymnasium yesterday Kelly boxed eight rounds with Sam Langford, the Boston star baby, and never looked better in his career. He has worked hard to get in shape for Koska as he realizes the eastern boxer is one of the toughest boys he has ever met.

Koska has been training at the Collins Athletic club and word comes from Manager Conroy that the Pittsburgh star is ready. Members of the Collins club are coming to Aurora 200 strong expecting to see Kelly take the count.

Several wagers on the outcome of the battle have been made in the loop district in Chicago. Koska has found many backers. He is said by critics to be one of the best looking welterweights that Chicago has seen in years. If he takes the measure of Kelly tomorrow he will be in line for some good matches.

Fury Pope and Kid Williams, those two little favorites who have furnished several good bouts for the local boxing public, will meet in the semi-windup of tomorrow's show. The boys have already met four times but in none of the bouts has there been enough edge to declare a winner.

Special street cars will leave the corner of Main street and Broadway for the scene of the bouts at 8 o'clock. It is only a five minute ride and there will be seats for all. Tickets are on sale at all of the leading sporting headquarters. Johnny Thompson will referee.

M'GRAW AFTER SEVENTH FLAG

Harry Wright, six pennants; J. P. Morrell, one; Frank Seles, five; George Stallings, one.

Jimmy Collins and Bill Carrigan each won two American league flags for Boston, while Jake Stahl grabbed the title in 1912.

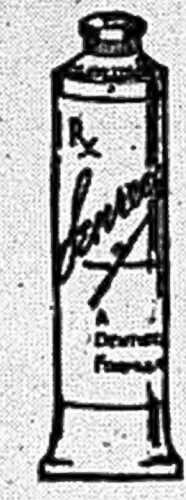

Chicago teams in the same period of time have captured 12 championships, 10 in the National league and three in the American. A. G. Spalding and "Pop" Anson won three National league pennants each for Chicago. And Frank Chance grabbed four in the American league. Charlie Combs, Clark Griffith and Fielder Jones have piloted the White Sox to championships.

Counting Connie Mack's six pennant winners, Philadelphia boasts eight championships. Away back in 1911 Hoke Hayhurst grabbed the National league honors with the original Athletics, and in 1915 Sir Patricius Moran and his Phillies gave Quakerstown her second National league bunting.

Pittsburgh, Brooklyn and Detroit have each won four pennants in professional baseball circles under big league managers. Fred Clarke piloted Pittsburgh's championships in 1901, 1902, 1903 and 1909. W. H. Watkins, veteran owner and manager, won Detroit's first pennant in 1887 in the old National league. Hugh Jennings, in the American league, grabbed the honors for Detroit in 1907, 1908 and 1909.

Brooklyn's first pennant was won in the National league in 1890 by Bill McGraw. In 1899 Ed Hanlon won the flag and he duplicated in 1900. Last year Wilbert Robinson broke a jinx that had followed the Dodgers for 16 years, by capturing the National league rag.

Senreco
The double-service tooth paste, keeps teeth clean AND GUMS HEALTHY.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the teeth in place than from decay.

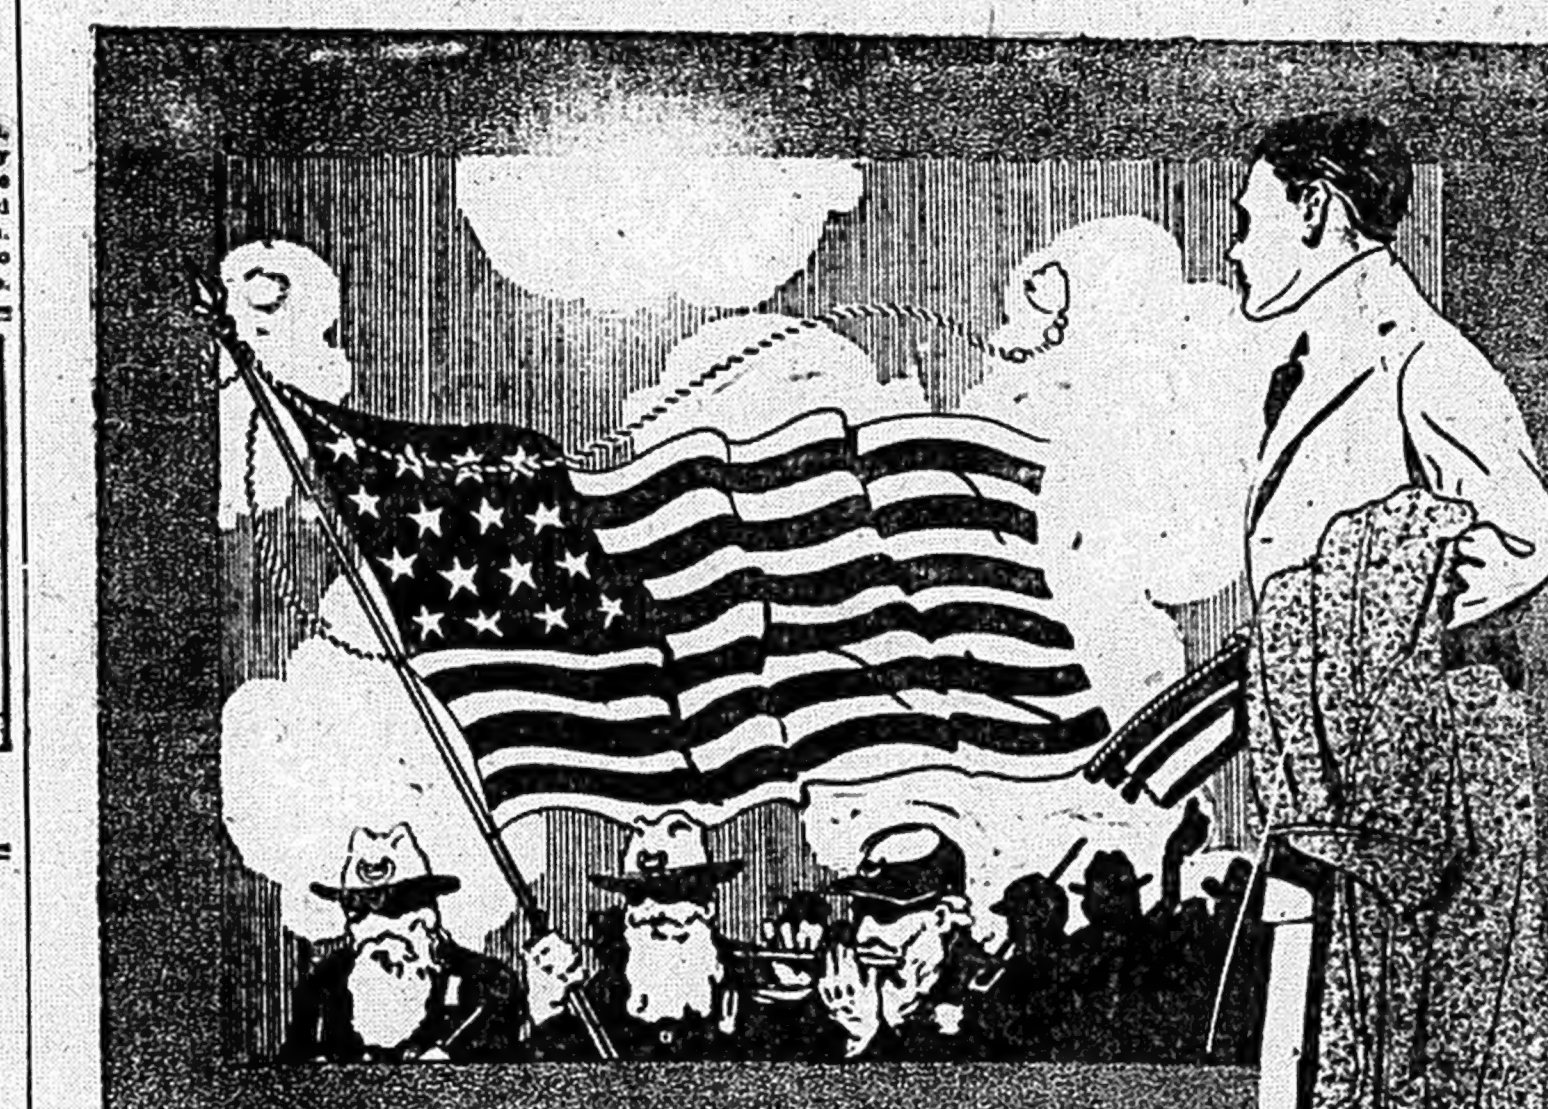

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hundreds of dentists are prescribing and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser; acts directly on the mucin film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean-feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Get a tube to-day at your druggists or toilet counter—enjoy the healthy, cleanly feeling its use gives your mouth and gums. Notice how brilliantly white Senreco makes your teeth. It performs this two-fold service for you and yet costs no more than the ordinary, old-fashioned tooth paste that simply cleans the teeth and leaves a pleasant taste—25 cents for a large 2 ounce tube.

No sharp "corners"—no scratchy "edges"

Roll some Fatima smoke around in your mouth. Notice its finish, its fine, flavory surface. No sharp "corners," no scratchy "edges."

In other words, Fatimas are a comfortable smoke. It's the delicate balance of the good tobaccos in this Turkish blend that keeps Fatimas so cool and smooth and tasty to the end.

And it is this same blend that makes it possible for every Fatima smoker to "feel like a Prince," even after he has smoked Fatimas all day long.

Let your Taste and Comfort prove how sensible Fatimas are.

 On May 8, Miss Adele DeGarde, who plays the part of Aggie Lynch in "Within the Law," had a double anniversary. The day not only marked her eighteenth birthday, but also the tenth anniversary of her membership in the Vitaphone company. The dual event was celebrated with a party at Bay Ridge, L. I. Miss DeGarde is now working with Earle Williams in a forthcoming Blue Ribbon feature,
 "A Meddler With Destiny."
 The high cost of living isn't worrying Marguerite Clayton, much. The little Essanay star had the foresight a year ago to purchase a little farm over in Michigan. She now has it leased out with a provision written into the contract that she can get all the fresh eggs, butter and vegetables she wants, and, if she chooses, can live there. The latter prerogative, however, is far from realization, for Miss Clayton is one of the busiest stars at Essanay. Her latest feature is "The Night Workers," a drama of eight life in the cities.
 Universal Director W. W. Beaudine is filming a one reel comedy called
 "The Worm Turns." It featured
 William Francy with Milburn Mo-

 "Seeing Things" is the title of a one reel comedy being made, with Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran in the LEAD WAR WITHOUT DATE. While the only sphere of intensive military activity at present is on the Austro-Italian front, where General Cadorna is day by day pushing back the Austrian lines upon Trieste, there are indications that the stagnation along the French and British fronts in France may soon be interrupted.

The sign that points most strongly to this impending change is the intensive aerial activity taking place. The British report of last night emphasized this in its account of 12 German machines destroyed and 10 others driven out of control, while today from the French front Paris announced the bringing down of seven German airplanes in engagements and the serious damage of 12 others.

For the present, however, the allied infantry is being held close to its lines. Raising operations and occasional local attacks by one side or the other are the only developments reported in the official statements, aside from the display of energy on the part of the airman and the artillery.

The German infantry facing the British armies is apparently being held in check by its commanders as closely as that of its opponents, but sharp attacks continue upon the French lines, notably in the Champagne region. Two of these were launched last night in the Hurler district, but each was easily repulsed by the French fire.

The French made a minor thrust of their own account in the Verdun region, where the activity is becoming more marked of late on both sides. A small German party north of Vacherauville was captured in this operation.

Mallory company of Kewanee, constructing the sewer system on the east side of Geneva, has been given an extension of time until July 1 by the board of local improvements in session last evening. FILE AFFIDAVIT "DEAD" MAN LIVES

Relatives Claim George Binder Is Now in Oklahoma—Re-vive Insurance Case.

Widow Has Long Been Plaintiff in Litigation to Collect $3,482 of M. W. A.

A former Earlville man—George Binder—declared legally dead, is alive in Oklahoma. It is claimed in affidavits filed in the circuit court at Geneva.

The affidavit claiming that Binder lives states that the George Binder, declared legally dead Jan. 12, 1917, got a divorce from his Aurora wife, Julia Binder, Jan. 9, 1916, in the district court at Okmulgee, Okla. The affidavit states that the suit was started Sept. 23, 1914.

After Judge Mazzini Slusser declared Binder dead and ordered a judgment for $3,482.50 in favor of Mrs. Binder, the Modern Woodmen of America insurance society, represented by Attorney Frank Joslyn of Elgin, appealed to the appellate court. The defendant did not file a brief in the upper court within the time limit and the suit was dismissed. Attorney John C. Murphy and Edward Lyon, representing Mrs. Julia Binder, went to the circuit court to get an execution on the judgment, $3,482.50, the amount of the insurance policy, plus $482.50 interest at 6 percent. They then filed an injunction, to stop the issuing of the execution, claiming they had found evidence that Binder was alive. The injunction was directed to Circuit Judge Slusser, Circuit Clerk Justus L. Johnson, Sheriff Beebe, Richard L. Atterbury, Sheriff and John C. Atterbury.

Traveling Man Meets Binder. An Earlville traveling salesman, W. H. Robinson, reported a few months ago that he had seen Binder in Oklahoma. The Modern Woodmen sought Robinson and after the case was appealed had him summoned to the circuit court at Geneva where he gave testimony stating he had seen Binder.

It is now up to the Modern Woodmen society to prove that prior to the time of the entering of the judgment against the company in favor of Mrs. Binder, that they did all they possibly could to locate George Binder. If they cannot offer proof to the court, that they made a diligent search, the judgment will most likely stand, and Mrs. Binder will receive the money even though her divorced husband, if he is the Oklahoma man, is still living, lawyers say. The Binder family resided at Earlville. Binder joined the Woodmen in 1888. He went from Earlville to Oklahoma in 1905 with the intention of taking land there. He wrote at times to his wife and sent money to her. The last letter Mrs. Binder received from him was Christmas morning, 1905.

Fail to Find Binder. Efforts to locate Binder were without success. Attorney Edward Lyon made a trip to Oklahoma and Kansas and reported that he could not locate Binder or any person knowing of his whereabouts. Mrs. Binder paid the insurance premiums for seven years and then made application for the insurance money.

The Illinois law presumes that a person who is missing for seven years is dead, providing proof is made in a court of record.

George Binder, altho living, could return to Illinois but would be dead in the eyes of the law unless Judge Slusser should by a legal act breathe legal life into him again.

Another Strange Angle. Mrs. Binder in 1915 stopped making payments of monthly premiums on the policy of her husband and as a result this policy is out of force. Therefore a peculiar angle results.

The Modern Woodmen's society's rules specify that insurance money will be paid only to blood relatives of a member and if George Binder divorced his wife Julia Binder is no longer a blood relative.

The case is being watched with interest by insurance companies and policy holders and beneficiaries.

RED, WHITE AND BLUE ALL OVER

We are to be red, white and blue from head to foot. Now it is hats that are being made up in red, white and blue. One pair of high boots even had embroidered upon the upper part of each a wee American flag. Another pair of pumps was made up in blue and white kid, the third color being introduced by an all-red heel.

The more conservative styles exhibit light to dark gray kid or suede or black and white, and two-toned brown leathers. A rather new effect is given in the dressy pump. Three narrow straps across the instep are finished with three small, neat silver buckles.

Mid-summer hats are to be of all georgette. That at least is cooler than the usual velvet affairs. Not only are they cool, but very attractive in the plum, white, black, purple, pink, and blue models which one Fifth avenue house is showing. Sometimes it is a summy wreath of flowers about the crown that is used as a trimming. Often these are put on flat and covered with mulline or net. Again it is a feather fancy that stands up about the crown or edges the brim.

Leghorns have daisy-covers of various colors. Sport hats favor wool trimmings. One of the smartest of these had yarn simply wound about the crown, one band of blue, and one of gold. Strands of it, edging the brim, were caught by a cross stitch. The crown was covered by little crosses like kisses at the end of a letter, as Madame, who is of a sentimental turn of mind, explained. Another straw hat had the crown liberally sprinkled with worsted French knots. Madame did not like these to anything at all!

Any woman who revels in the dainty feminine accessories will have opportunity to indulge in them to her heart's content, especially in the way of neckwear. Jabots are becoming daily daintier. Lace, chiffon, georgette, ribbon trimmings, or even roses of small flowers. Vests, too, for the tailored suits show all sorts of pretty variations. Satin bandings, colored buttons, ruffles, contrasting collars, printed silks, hemstitched georgettes offer an unlimited choice.

And gloves have lately taken it upon themselves to become ornate. They flaunt flippant frillings in white or black-and-white stripes at the waist; colored buttons, zigzag borders, shaded stitchings, and embroidered sprays of flowers. However, so long as they do not become too overburdened for comfort, one cannot discourage them.

Sport suits are more than ever attractive. The use of gorgeously colored sport satins gives them an ornamental rather than a practical appearance. One suit with a gold and white striped silk jersey coat. An all blue, green, or old rose one is simply made, being complete without the touch of a contrasting trimming.

Miss Margaret Chambers of Aurora and Miss Mabel Newton of Batavia were the guests of Miss Helen Kinsberg the week-end.

Mrs. Crabbe Kiegaard, who has been quite ill for some time, was removed to Augustana hospital in Chicago Thursday where she will receive treatment.

MOOSEHEART BOY GETS THE REAL WAR SPIRIT

Russell Cretcher, Mooseheart student, wanted to serve his country in this war with Germany, failed and is much disappointed.

The boy got the war spirit and slipped away from Mooseheart without getting permission. This is against the rules and means expulsion but the cause of his errand means forgiveness.

He went to Chicago and applied for enlistment in the navy. He is tall, broad, shouldered and weighs 108 pounds. His examination proved that he is fit physically, his eye sight, his hearing and all faculties are good.

The boy was overjoyed at passing the physical tests and had visions of soon being on his battleship. The examiner in filling out the card came to the question about age. He asked, "your age." The boy said, "15 years." The examiner said, "You are too young to get in the navy," and despite pleadings the boy could not get in. He returned to Mooseheart broken-hearted.

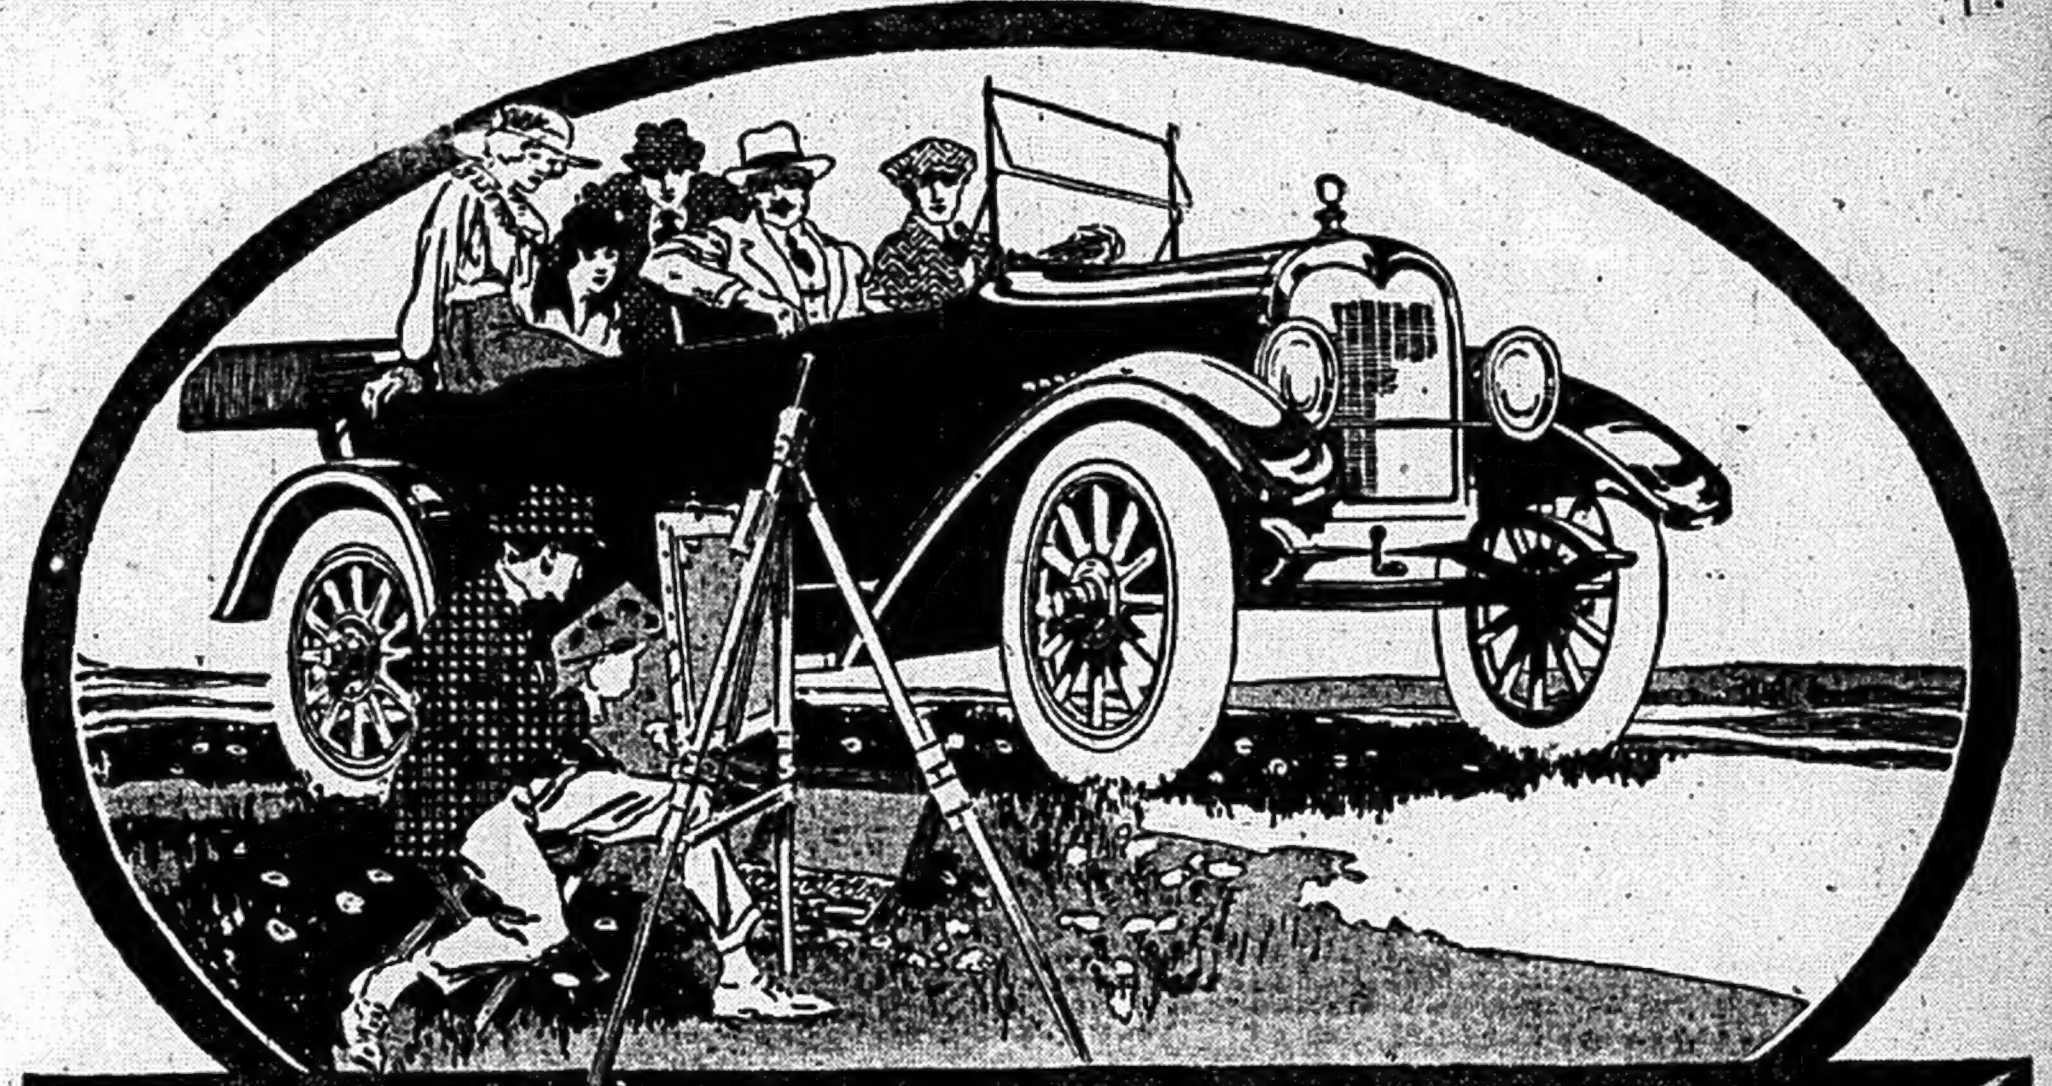

IT WORKS WELL

A Combination That Is Doing an Immense Amount of Good This Spring.

A superlative blood-purifying medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, taken before meals, combined with a superlative iron tonic like Peptonin Pills, taken after meals—makes the ideal course of Spring Medicine.

No other medicines possess such curative properties as these two great restoratives working together. They reach the impure, impoverished, poisoned, devitalized blood, and the worn, run-down, overworked, exhausted system. They awaken the appetite, aid digestion, purify and vitalize the blood, give renewed strength to the whole body, produce sound, natural sleep, and a complete restoration to good health—the greatest of all earthly blessings—it is said that $2 invested in these two medicines will bring better results than $1 spent in other treatment.

It will be wise to get Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptonin Pills today—Advertisement.

The Maxwell Is Mechanically Right We Waited Four Years To Say That

The makers of the Maxwell spent four years in developing the car. Patient, persistent, scientific refinement of one model—that was the method. An automobile that beats the world for endurance, efficiency, economy—that's the result.

You know the old story about the race between the hare and the tortoise:

—how the hare skipped about the fields—nibbled clover tops—cut all kinds of capers, trying to "show off";
—how the tortoise stuck to his job—stayed in the middle of the road—kept on going—and won the race;
—you know that story and its moral.

No Experiment in Maxwell Mechanism

Some automobile makers have run around after novelties—like the hare, trying to add untried "improvements" which operate better in advertising than on the car.

But the Maxwell makers held fast to one model, and when some one made a big how-do-do about his latest novelty, the Maxwell makers strengthened a pin, or simplified or improved a part of the Maxwell mechanism.

—or in other big and little ways developed, refined, perfected the one Maxwell model.

So that, in the end, the Maxwell won by the tortoise method.

The Maxwell World Endurance Champion

A Maxwell stock car—a duplicate in every detail of your Maxwell—without stopping the motor, traveled 22,022 miles in 44 days and nights.

—and at a rate of 25 miles an hour and 22 miles per gallon of gasoline.

No other vehicle built by human beings ever did anything to compare with that feat.

The Economy Champion Too

F. D. Armour used to say that his packing houses "utilized all the hog but the squeal."

That's the kind of economy you get in a Maxwell.

Mrs. Miriam Thayer Sealey, Professor at the Oregon Agricultural College, drove her Maxwell for 9,700 miles across the continent and back.

—over every conceivable kind of road, across the desert and over mountains.

—for $8.19 a month, including gasoline, oil and repairs.

Thousands of Maxwell owners get hard daily service out of their cars at a cost of $6 to $8 a month.

That's pretty near what the college professors call "an irreducible minimum."

The Maxwell's Great Vital Organs

There's the frame—combining greatest strength with greatest flexibility.

There's the wonderful radiator, that does its work of cooling at any speed and all the time.

There's the world champion engine—rugged, simple, with power to spare.

There's the great wear-proof clutch, running in oil—the most efficient we know of—bar none.

There's the transmission—simple, trouble-proof—self-lubricating.

And, besides, the Maxwell is a handsome, comfortable, completely equipped car.

The Maxwell Is the Car You Want

The Maxwell at $665 f. o. b. Detroit is indeed in every man's car.

All we ask is a chance to show you the Maxwell.

The car will prove every statement we've made.

The Maxwell is mechanically right

WHEAT IS STRONGER WITH OTHER GRAINS

Decided Upturns in Values of Coarse Grains Today Stimu-lates Mart After Sag.

Unexpected Meantness in Country
Offerings Leads Rush of Short Buying of Corn.

(By Associated Press Local Wire.)
Chicago, May 29.—Wheat prices developed strength today owing to decided upturns in the value of coarse grain. At first, however, the wheat market was inclined to sag on account of a bearish report from Missouri. Trade was only of a waiter's character. Opening prices, which ranged from unchanged figures to 2 1/2c lower, with July at $2.01 1/2 to $2.02 and September at $1.87, were followed by a rise all around to well above yesterday's figure.

Later the market eased off a little as a result of reports that continued cool showery weather was bringing out the Kansas crop wonderfully and that yields were likely to be larger than had been expected. The close was unsettled, 2 1/2c lower to 3c advance, with July at $2.02 and September at $1.87 1/2.

Unexpected meanness of offerings from the country led to a rush on the part of shorts to buy corn. Even dealers who believed in ultimate lower prices conceded that yesterday's selling had been overdone and that the effect of the sharp break in the market had been at least temporarily to choke off the movement from rural sources. After opening at 2 1/2c higher, prices scored further gains and then underwent something of a reaction.

When the wants of shorts had been supplied, leading houses became active sellers, and forced a setback in prices.
The close was heavy at 4 1/2c net decline.

Cats hardened with corn. Sellers were scarcely able to get a bid. Oats followed the lead of corn. Shorts found but little for sale when they tried to cover.

HOG PRICES LOWER DESPITE LIGHT RUN

Chicago, May 29.—Weak demand for hogs offset a light run of swine today and prices averaged 10c lower than yesterday's.
Slippers and packers were satisfied to offer less than sellers demanded and declined to raise their bids. Inferior quality of nearly all grades of cattle received worked against higher prices and lack of buyers in the sheep market caused mutton prices to decline.

Find Runaway Boy—Allen Warner, was found in Aurora last night by Patrolman Harvey Mader. He was taken to police headquarters. A telegram was sent to his father, who was expected in Aurora today to take the boy home.

Girl Bitten by Dog—Miss Edith Wilson, 12 years old, was bitten by a dog at her home in Benton street last night and her right hand badly lacerated. Dr. F. Coughlin was called to take care of the injury.

HER SON
An aged woman stood in front of The Beacon-News office this morning gazing at a recruiting poster.
Tears flowed unrestrainedly down her cheeks.

Questioned, she said:
"Oh, I think of my boy. (Pointing to the picture). Mark Matas, my baby. He is 20 years old—my youngest boy. Three-four weeks ago he talked much of the flags, the sun, the army, and the horses. He is a good boy, my Mark, and all I like the horses. Then he goes away with that—what do you say—the cavalry.
Yes, he goes to ride the horses.
"Do I get a letter? Yes, he's well. He writes from there (waving her arm toward the south). But he never come back—no, he never come back."

A sympathetic listener hastened to express confidence in his safe return, urging her to place confidence in the Great Father.

A smile broke thru the tear-stained face, as she turned to the stranger.

"Yes," she said, "Yes. He watch my boy. He send him back to me. He fight for his country."

ZOUAVES' FATHER DIES

Capt. G. A. Hurd, "father" of the world's champion Zouave company, is dead in Chicago. It was learned here today. He lived here until 10 years ago.

The Aurora Zouaves were organized in the year 1885 by a group of 20 young men who wished to perfect themselves in zouave drill. G. A.
Hurd, the organizer, was elected the first captain. Since that time the company has had more than 400 members and has made a world renowned reputation.

The world's championship was won at Indianapolis in July, 1891, with a prize of $1,000 cash. No team was ever able to defeat the Aurora troupe in competition drill.

The Zouaves gained an international reputation when touring this country and Europe with circuses and they drilled before the crowned heads then governing Europe.

STONE DAY

Stone day, a day in which stones will be removed from the Lincoln highway between Aurora and Winfield under auspices of the Aurora
Automobile club will be Saturday,
June 2.

The work is to be done by Boy Scouts of Aurora under the direction of A. E. Young, scout commissioner.
He said accounts have 40 to 70 boys clearing the Aurora section of the ocean to ocean motor trail.

A committee to have charge of the affair was named last evening when the automobile club met. The committee is: William McCullough, G. R.
Kilbourne, Arthur Logan, C. M. Mc-Carthy, William Ohlaver, G. W. Kider,
Frank Watson, Frank Earl, Thomas
Jones, Charles Powell, F. G. Adamson, John Schmitt, S. W. Thorne,

George Alschuler, Judd Chapman,
John Alexander, C. M. Annett, Edward Schoerlein, M. E. Patterson, Luther

J. W. Young and Charles Sorg.

The officials of the club announced last evening that they expect to receive this week the club emblems for use on motor cars.

Indoor Life Makes Fat

Try Oil of Kolin with Simple
System to Get Fine Figure

People who spend most of their time indoors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air must take precaution to guard against overeating, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and dangerous to the vital organs of the body.

Lack of fresh air weakens the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality, and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are overweight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden.

You are advised to go to a good druggist and get a small box of oil of kolin capsules and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night. Also follow the simple directions that come with the box.

Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable loss in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy.
Footsteps become lighter and the skin less flabby in appearance as superfluous fat disappears.

Oil of kolin is pleasant to take,
cannot injure, and helps the digestion.
Any person who wants to reduce ten to sixty pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial. Reports of rapid, safe reduction are being made by both men and women.—Advertisement.

Five Uses
A Miniature Medicine Chest
In One Bottle

Here now in a new and strictly different, strictly better antiseptic—a healing, soothing, healthful new lotion that nerves five different uses. CALPHENOL is more than a mere antiseptic or disinfectant. It is more and more.

1 CALPHENOL is ideal as an antiseptic gar-gle and germicide in cases of sore throat, sore tonsils, swollen glands. It kills diphetheria germs, wards off grip, pneumonia and other dangerous diseases that enter the body through the mouth and throat, while it is at the same time absolutely harmless to the most delicate tissues of the throat.

2 CALPHENOL is unequalled for washing the mouth and throat. It wards off pyorrhea or affords immediate relief if it has already come. A pleasant, delightful mouth wash, purifying and sweetening the breath.

3 CALPHENOL heals and sterilizes insect and mosquito bites, poison ivy, etc. It soothes, relieves and leaves the skin soft and velvety. Also splendid after shaving.

4 For cuts and sores, CALPHENOL is a first aid and invaluable when applied at the start. It kills the poisonous germs, soothes and heals the skin and helps nature to restore things to their natural, normal condition.

5 This antiseptic germicide gives instant relief in cases of sunburn, changing your sunburned skin from an angry red to a beautiful tan, while it relieves and soothes. A necessary addition in the equipment of bathers, automobilists, golfers, baseball fans and vacationists generally.

We are the druggists who sell and recommend CALPHENOL, the five-fold antiseptic that is useful all the year around. You can buy it for only 25c—large size 50c.
